

Kelly Springer
President and CEO
Metal Flow Corp.

Kelly Springer is president and CEO of Metal Flow Corp., a manufacturing organization located in Holland. She previously served as COO. Metal Flow is a manufacturer of technically sophisticated custom metal components primarily to the automotive industry. She joined Metal Flow in February of 2013 as Chief Financial Officer after spending 22 years in public accounting. Kelly is a graduate of Michigan State University.

Kelly has made significant contributions to the community through her involvement in a variety of organizations including her current roles as a member of the Michigan Women's Foundation Advisory Council. Previously she served as a member and chair of the Center for Community Leadership Council (Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce), chair of the Inforum West Michigan Advisory Council, and president of the JDRF (Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation) Michigan Great Lakes West chapter. She has received recognition as a Young Athena nominee (2010) and "40 under 40" recognition with the Grand Rapids Business Journal (2009).

Kelly is married to husband, Randy, and enjoys spending time with her three teenage children.